ARMISTICE DAY HERE FITTINGLY OBSERVED

EX-SOLDIERS HEAR ADDRESS AND SERVED DINNER BY CAMERON WOMEN

American ideals as conceived by the nation in participating in the world war as well as an outlook upon the future with the Legionairs playing his part as constructive citizen formed the basis of an address delivered by T. S. Henderson before ex-soldiers here last Thursday when the local post observed the annual Armistice.

The address of Mr. Henderson was one of the best ever heard by the people here. He talked at length upon the conceptions of liberty that brought America to enter the war. He praised the American soldiers and predicted a great era of service for the Legion of America.

Miss Dorothy Blaylock contributed an interesting reading of "Flanders Field". The crowd stood at attention and faced the west in one minute of silent prayer at eleven o'clock. This was an impressive feature of the program. Rev. H. G. Kenney asked the invocation and Rev. Shimeall of the Christian church pronounced the benediction.

The ex-service men were served a lunch by the women of Cameron cooperating with th local post. The arrangements were under the direction of A. F. Mitchell. The post extends its thanks to the women of Cameron for their assistance in the lunch. The Cameron Fruit Company contributed a bunch of bananas and Grady Houston gave a box of choice apples to the legion men, all of which is greatly appreciated by the men.

At night the Legion dance was held in the Knights of Columbus hall in charge of Monk Alford. The Midnight Serenaders furnished music and the dance was a success financially as well as from a pleasure standpoint for the young people.

DOBBINS SALE CONTINUES THROUGH THE REMAINDER OF THE YEAR SAYS AD

While the big sale at Dobbins has been closed according to the time it was scheduled to run, Mr. Dobbins has an extraordinary announcement this week in which he says a bale of cotton will buy as much at his store now as it did in 1922 or 1923 or any other year.

Truly this is a remarkable offer. Mr. Dobbins quotes prices and says his exceptional offers will last thru the remainder of the year.

FARMERS MEET FOR A DISCUSSION OF PLIGHT

J. K. FREEMAN TALKS TO MEN IN COURT HOUSE ON COTTON SITUATION

Farmers gathered in Cameron on Wednesday for a discussion of the cotton reduction acreage.

The meeting was called here at the instance of John Angell, farmer. The meeting was well attended.

J. K. Freeman delivered the principal address. He is interested in the welfare of the farmers and is assisting them with his advice and counsel.

Mr. Freeman has a keen insight into the cotton situation and general economics.

The meeting took no formal action on the proposed cotton reduction but it is generally understood that the acreage will be cut about one-fourth in Milam County.

BANKS CALL MEETING TO URGE LAW TO CUT ACREAGE

BODY RECOVERED SHOWS SIGNS OF VIOLENCE

RAMON FLORES, MEXICAN, BELIEVED VICTIM OF BANDITS NEAR CLARKSON

The body of Ramon Flores, Mexican, was found floating in Pond Creek Friday night by another Mexican who reported the discovery to sheriff L. L. Blaylock who went to the scene and later called Justice J. T. Thweatt of Maysfield for an inquest.

Investigation developed the statement from relatives of the dead man who was residing at the home of his cousin on the T. H. Freeman farm, that Flores left home some ten days before the body was discovered with $150 in his pockets. He is said to have told his relatives that he was going to Dallas to buy some clothes and would return and peddle them among the people of the community.

When Flores did not return his relatives became alarmed and a search was instituted. The body was found in Pond Creek, near Briary.

Examination of the body showed that Flores had been hit on the head with a blunt instrument, the skull being crushed in on the left side and his chin also beat in.

The pockets of the man were turned out which indicates, officers say that he was slugged and his money taken.

Justice Thweatt rendered a verdict in which he said the man met death from blows by a blunt instrument wielded by another person.

Officers are continuing their investigation but so far nothing has been developed that promises a solution of the crime.

JOHN G. VEST, BELOVED CITIZEN DEAD AT AGE OF 62; SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK NOV. 11th

John G. Vest, 62, beloved citizen and for a quarter century a resident of Cameron, died suddenly at the family residence Thursday afternoon, November 11, 1926, following a short period of illness due to heart failure.

Death came suddenly to Mr. Vest as he rested quietly at his home on the afternoon of Armistice Day. He had been at home suffering from his heart since Sunday, November 7, but no alarm was felt for his condition. Growing worse about two o'clock in the afternoon the family physician was called and a stimulant administered. The heart attack, however was more severe than anticipated and the end came shortly before three o'clock as the family and physicians gathered about him.

In the death of John G. Vest the city loses one of its most esteemed citizens. Sorrow was universal when the news of his death was known over the city. For some years Mr. Vest had been suffering with heart trouble but his collapse was not anticipated.

Hundreds of his friends were out of the city to witness the football game at Rockdale. Shortly after his death word was received by his son, Richard Vest who was in Rockdale. E. B. Phillips, brother in law of Mr. Vest first received the word. Elwood Cammer, who has been associated with Mr. Vest, along with others of close friends returned immediately to Cameron.

John G. Vest was born in Newport News Virginia in 1864 the son of a prominent pioneer physician, Dr. Richard Vest who was a native of Richmond, Virginia, the seat of the Southern Confederate government. John G. Vest received his education in the University of Virginia, a schooling that brought to him knowledge of affairs and a refinement that endeared him to his fellows. The influence of his southern environment together with his inherent qualities of high ideals made of him a gentleman at all times and brought to him more than the average of esteem among those with whom he associated.

As a young man, John G. Vest, lured by the romantic appeal of the west, left the surroundings of his southern birth and turned his face westward to seek his career. He came to San Antonio and there lived for a number of years. He was a frail man when he came to live under the Texas sun but his love of outdoors and the grim necessity of regaining strength brought to him night and the stars far out from the circle of friends under the canopy of Texas skies as he rode and lived in simple adventure as a man of the open spaces.

Early in his life in Texas he was attracted to the cotton trade and became early an expert in the business, first engaging as a buyer in San Antonio and later with larger cotton firms in the state. He later moved to Rockdale where he met and won for his bride Miss Cornelia Eden Smith, daughter of Col. C. R. Smith, prominent pioneer attorney. The wedding occurred in the home of Mrs. E. A. Wallace at Rockdale, sister of Mrs. Vest. Born at Cameron, Mrs. Vest was reared at Salado and in Belton.

After their happy wedding Mr. and Mrs. Vest moved to La Grange where he continued his cotton business. From that place they came to Cameron about 25 years ago, where Mr. Vest continued in this business up to the time of his death.

In religious faith Mr. Vest was a Baptist, having been converted and united with the church at Rockdale. He continued in loyalty to his church at all times showing deep convictions about religious matters.

Funeral services directed by Green Brothers were held Friday afternoon from the family home. Among his friends in the cotton industry and from others the active and honorary pallbearers were elected. Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor at the Baptist church, conducted the ceremony which was simple in appointment out of respect to an oft expressed wish that his funeral rites, when they should come, be simple. He wanted his friends to gather at his home and so it was. Hundreds came and flowers as tender expressions of esteem continued to arrive even at the appointed time for the cortege to the cemetery, they came from friends far and near. The service at the home was a simple and touching tribute to the man who had lived in simple faith with great character and gentleness of spirit. As the body was born out from the home there was lined about the walk ways hundreds of friends with heads bow-

MASS MEETING ASKED TO DISCUSS COTTON ACREAGE PROBLEM HERE SOON

The four banks of Cameron united Wednesday in issuing a call for a mass meeting of Milam county citizens next Monday to consider a law for regulating cotton acreage. O. H. Cross of Waco, who owns a large amount of Milam County land an dwho has announced his intention of cutting his cotton acreage to half this year, was invited to address the meeting. Albert Green of the First National Bank will preside as chairman of the meeting, which will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the court house.

The meeting will consider co-operation with the Cotton Control association, recently organized by a number of Central Texas counties with headquarters at Waco. The chief object of the new association is to secure passage of acreage restrictions at the next session of the Texas legislature. The chief bill now receiving consideration is that prepared by M. C. Parrish, Austin legislator and banker, which would prohibit planting cotton on the same land two years in succession.

In discussing the situation, Mr. Green said Wednesday that Egypt has this year restricted cotton acreage to 66 2-3 per cent of what it was last year, this being the third time since 1920 that the Egyptian government has taken such action, that British possessions engaged in raising rubber have increased the price of rubber from 16c in 1922 to more than $1.00 a pound in 1925, by restrictions on production; that Cuba lifted the price of sugar this year by limiting the out put of sugar mills; that Brazil limited coffee production and stabilized the price; and that Mexico is making American farmers pay twice as much for sisal, for binder cord, as they formerly paid, by controlling production and sales.

The constitutionality of the Parrish bill has been approved by many leading lawyers and is now before Attorney General Dan Moody for an opinion, but regardless of the outcome of the attorney general's decision it is understood that the Cotton Control association will endeavor to have the law passed and will fight to uphold it in the courts.

BAPTIST MEETING IS CLOSED HERE SUNDAY

CHURCH REVIVAL PROVES INSPIRATION TO MEMBERSHIP IN CAMERON

The church revival conducted for eight days at the Baptist church was closed on Sunday night.

Rev. W. R. White of the Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth preached the series of sermons on the New Testament Christian and Mr. Helm, singer, conducted the song services.

At the Sunday morning hour an offering was made to the seminary.

Dr. White is one of the leading preachers of the Denomination and his sermons were inspiring to the people. He is a man of unusual learning and the oratory of his sermons swept the big crowds at each service.

The singing of Mr. Helm was a great aid to the success of the meeting. A number of additions both by letter and for baptism resulted from the meeting.

The pastor announced that it was to be a meeting for the church family and in this event the meeting was a great success.

Christmas Cards Vital Part of Holiday Season

IN OUR modern world of today the sending and receiving of greeting cards has come to be a very vital part of the holiday season, so much so, in fact, that we can nearly gauge the number of our friends by the number of cards received. Each year as the Yuletide season approaches millions of these little messages of love and good wishes travel from one to another and everywhere mail carriers stagger under the load of them which they carry. For while one Christmas card may not weigh very much, yet, when hundreds of them are piled together they make no mean weight.

Nowadays there are special cards for every member of the family from grandpa to baby, not to mention those for sweethearts, friends, etc., and there are cards for any and all occasions. Just as you and I are recovering from the effects of the Christmas celebrations each year verse writers are working feverishly and racking their brains for new and catchy sentiments for cards for the next Christmas season. A really good verse—a bit of sentiment that speaks the very thought within our hearts—is worth a small fortune to the manufacturer that gets hold of it.

It seems hard to believe in the face of all this that it is only a little fewer than eighty years ago that the first Christmas card was made and that it was as late as the year 1862 when the public first began to send out cards and then the custom was practiced only by the few. But, like other things that supplied a long-felt need, the sending of greeting cards grew by leaps and bounds until, today, Christmas would not seem like itself at all without these little messages from those we love.—Katherine Edelman.

CHEVROLET USED TO BULLDOG BIG STEERS

The automobile has invaded another realm of the horse, the dangerous game of "bulldogging" steers which has been popular in the Lone Star state ever since the vast herds of cattle first roamed its prairies.

The stunt was successfuliy performed recently for the first time by a daring cowgirl at the rodeo held at Bandera, Texas.

Crouched on the running board of a Chevrolet touring car, she rode in pursuit of a wild Texas steer. A group of yelling cowboys mounted on horses joined in the chase. The driver of the Chevrolet adroitly avoided a frenzied charge when the steer suddenly stood his ground and attempted to gore his pursuers.

The car then whirled in a swift circle and ran alongside the galloping steer. The cowgirl leaped from the running board to the animal's shoulders, locked one arm about its neck and threw him to the ground. She suffered no injury.

Veteran cowmen in Bandera county, the heart of the western ranch country, declare that "bulldogging" from a car appears to be safer than when the rider is mounted on a horse.

FARMERS & GRAIN MEN ORGANIZE TO ASK AID

MILAM FARMERS AROUSED AS MEN OF MIDDLE WEST AND SOUTH ACT

Milam county farmers in their meeting in Cameron on Wednesday held their session on the heels of a national movement by both farmers and grain men of the west and middle west to seek legislative action to relieve the farm area.

The establishment of a permanent agrarian policy by the government with suitable legislation and protective schedules are sought by the conference in St. Louis, however the meeting at Cameron discussed the cutting of the cotton acreage.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.—The cotton-growing south and the grain producing middle-west got together today for a two day discussion through the medium of representatives of farmer organizations of fourteen states, six of them southern, to formulate joint demands for congressional relief for agriculture.

It was the first time that the two great agricultural sections ever had reached the point of sitting together, and the move, sought for months by the grain producers, finally was influenced largely by the condition in which the south finds itself through a heavy over production of cotton, which has sent prices tumbling.

Government Is Assailed

Governmental favoritism was termed the cause of the farmers' predicament in a speech prepared for delivery by Thaddeus Caraway, United States Senator from Arkansas, one of the four speakers on to days program The others were Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Dr. S. W. Kilgore of Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the board of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, and A. D. Waldauer of Memphis, Tenn., attorney for the Tennessee Cotton Growers' Co-Operative association.

"There is no mystery as to the cause of the collapse of agriculture," said Senator Caraway. "Everyone who thinks knows the cause. Had there been a collapse in industry, in transportation, in commerce, and in agriculture from 1920 to today, we might have thought it due to world conditions. If prosperity had come to agriculture as it came to industry, transportation and to commerce, we would have ascribed it to world conditions.

Trouble Due To Legislation

"But when prosperity came to commerce, to industry, to transportation, and bankruptcy to agriculture, we likewise knew the cause. When prosperity comes to one section and remains in that section and poverty reigns supreme in another section of the country, we also know the cause.

"We know it to be due to legislation—to governmental favoritism."

There is no complaint against the prosperity of the industrial east, of transportation and commerce, he said.

"We ask merely that agriculture shall be permitted to share it, not to lessen it."

Amazing Spectacle

"An amazing spectacle, however, is presented to agriculture," said the senator. "Whenever it seeks to have extended to it the same opportunities, and by the same means that has brought prosperity to other callings and to other sections, it is met by the declaration that it seeks special favors, unwarranted favors, that its position is not economical, that it is paternalistic and unconstitutional; that the farmer must look to the law of supply and demand for his market.

"Suggest to these other interests, however, that they look to the same law of supply and demand, and we are met with the declaration that we wish to destroy American industry."

Mr. Waldauer assailed President Coolidge's cotton committee as working with an indefinite plan while the south faces disaster, which, progressively, will make itself felt throughout the country.

He urged that the south and the middlewest join hands in working for a permanent agrarian policy.

MRS. WATSON ENTERTAINS

It is a custom of the Wednesday Bridge Club that those making six low scores during the year will entertain those who made high score and on last Thursday evening Mrs. James Watson very charmingly entertained members of the club and guests. Four tables were attractively arranged in the reception suite for the guests where autumn leaves and flowers were used to make the scene more inviting. The large mantel was a charming feature piece of handiwork in its adornment of persimmons and beautiful autumn leaves.

After a series of games and much merry conversation, high score was won by Mrs. George Simonds and consolation fell to Mrs. George Childress. Both received miniature bronze turkeys. Mr. and Mrs. Oxsheer Smith were guests and they also were given a bronze turkey.

The tables were laid with attractive covers of Thanksgiving design, and the napkins simulated autumn leaves. The following three course menu was served:

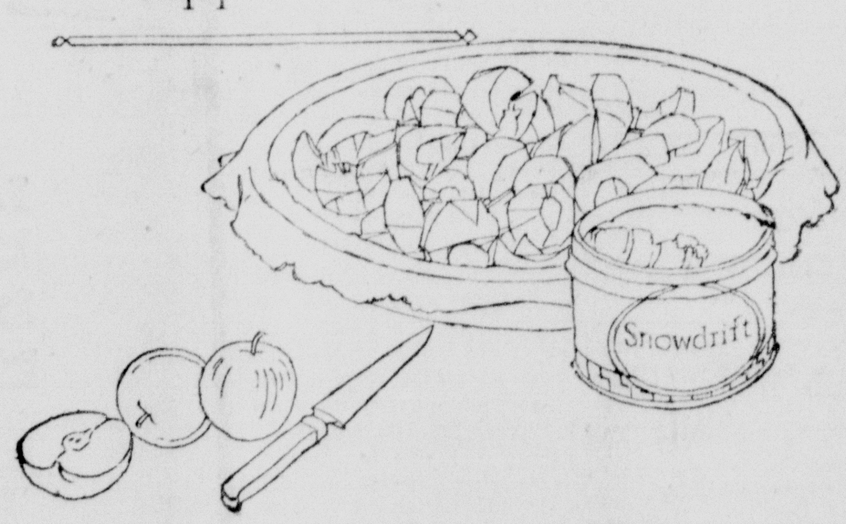
Apple Pie



A good cook who makes her pie crust with Snowdrift and says that Snowdrift is an excellent shortening for pie crust makes her apple pies this way. It's delicious apple pie.

First line a pie-plate with the crust; strew this with a tablespoon of fine dry bread or cracker crumbs and dot with a half tablespoon of Snowdrift. Then fill with the sliced apples which should be mixed with a generous quarter cupful of sugar to each cupful of fruit. Sprinkle with another tablespoon of crumbs, add a teaspoonful of Snowdrift and put on the top crust. Put in a hot oven and as soon as crust has begun to brown a little reduce the heat so that the fruit can cook slowly and thoroughly.

YOEMEN WIN 13 TO 0 FROM ROCKDALE TEAM

ARMISTICE DAY GAME SEES TRIUMPH OF CRIMSON OVER RIVAL SQUAD

The Rockdale Tigers were defeated last Thursday by the Yoemen in their annual gridiron clash. This game was one of the greatest classics ever fought on the Fair Park gridiron. This game creates as much interest each year as does the Texas-A. & M. Turkey Day game, although this was the first game played between Rockdale and Cameron after a lull of three years.

Mondrik, the Battering Ram of the Yoemen, led the attack against the Tigers by his long gains through the line. Adams scintillated by his sensational end runs, while Smith and Slocumb did their share of the line plunging and short end runs. The whole backfield starred with the help of the fighting and charging line. Thompson, Baskin, Graham, Cheeves, Farris, Hazelwood and Captain Mohler led the attack of the line against the Yellow horde as they clashed, fighting for the honor and victory of Yoe High. Mondrik gains the title of the "Battering Ram" as he hits the line, twisting and weaving, side-stepping and stiff-arming his way through the whole Tiger defense for long gains. Adams' swooping end runs, his broken field running as he circled the Tiger ends, was the most thrilling plays of the game. Thompson got off some wonderful punts averaging around thirty yards.

Captain Newt Daniels and "Little Richards" of the Tigers failed to come up to the expectations of the fans, on every play except once when Richards broke through the line for eleven yards. Richards and Daniels were smothered by the Yoemen swarmed in upon him like bees. Blackburn returned a few punts for fairly good gains. The crisis of the game came in the fourth quarter when Pickens, star half back of the Rockdale team, hid out for a pass. He had an open field before him but dropped the ball as it fell into his arms. Pickens was the ground gainer for the Tigers with the help of Blackburn and Lightfoot. Pickens gained consistently through the Yoemen line.

The Yoemen's touchdowns came in the 2nd and 4th quarters by Mondrik and Adams respectively.

Game play by play:

Captain Mohler of the Yoemen meets Captain Daniels of the Tigers in the center of the field for a conference with the officials. Cameron wins the toss and chooses to defend the South goal. YOEMEN vs. BELTON TIGERS NEXT WEDNESDAY

November 24, at 3:30 o'clock will see two of the oldest rivals of the gridiron in this part of the state meet on the Lawless Green Field.

The Belton Tigers are coming here for the second consecutive season. They succeeded in putting over a win last year by a lone field goal in the last period. The Yoemen will be out to even that count the coming game and the game looks to be a close battle from start to finish. After a season of hard luck of every kind the Yoemen are just now hitting their stride and expect to win the remaining three games on their schedule. A big part of the letter men that were carried over from last year have spent the biggest part of the season on the side lines, they are all back in the line-up now and the Yoemen look like a different team.

This is the last game that many of the team will play for old Yoe High and a good crowd should be out to see them in their last appearance before a home crowd.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least once a year.

NEW ESSEX SEDAN IS ANNOUNCED HERE

HORSTMENN BROS. RECEIVE A NEW PRODUCT OF HUDSON MOTOR COMPANY

A new 4-door Essex sedan, with upholstery and all details of high quality, yet with the list price under the $800 level is announced by Horstmann Bros., Hudson-Essex distributor. The first cars of this type to reach this city are now on display in Hudson-Essex salesrooms.

A view of the car discloses ample roominess and a general air of richness and careful finish, both within and without. The body is steel built in the $10,000,000 plant which Hudson-Essex recently finished for its steel-body models. Chassis is standard, but includes a number of recent refinements which improve performance.

"This is the first time in automobile history," said Mr. Horstmann, "that a four door car on a six cylinder chassis has been offered the public at anything resembling this figure. The Hudson-Essex organization explains this high quality at its very moderate price by the manufacturing economies obtained through building its own bodies in its own ultra-modern plants.

"Up to the present Essex has manufactured only the coach type of body (except for a nominal number of touring bodies, mostly for export) which it originated, and on which Essex has built up a volume sales record of 360,000 in three years on the six cylinder chassis.

"The finish, lacquer, is an attractive duo-tone effect in blue. The lower panels and the wheels are pelham blue, the upper panels in Aquamarine blue. The fenders and running board are enamel, the radiator shell nickle-plated. On the body belt line is a double stripe of Chrome yellow, which also is used for dart-shaped stripes on the wheels. The whole effect is rich, smart and attractive.

"Within the car, the seats and seat backs are upholstered in Mohair plush, a material only equalled in texture and richness in cars of the higher price ranges. Side walls and the top are of velvet. The whole is a color combination in blue, gray and green, attractive in itself, and harmonious also with the colors of the exterior.

"Seating space is quite unusual and adequate. The front seat is adjustable like that in the Hudson brougham, and can be changed either fore and aft or for the height and angle of the seat itself. The rear seats are restful and comfortable. In comparison with others cars of its price level, the Essex sedan is remarkably roomy and ample in assuring the comfort of its passengers.

"Details are of exceptional merit. The rear window and the rear quarter windows are curtained. A robe rail across the back of the front seat is nickel-plated, as are the door handles and the crank regulators for all six windows. A dome light and pockets in the rear doors are additional features of interest. As the driver sits at the wheel, he faces an instrument board finished in Pelham blue, with the panel between the board and the windshield in Aquamarine blue, a duo-tone color combination pleasing and rich.

"When it is considered that so durable and attractive a 4-door body is offered on the Essex chassis at $795 f. o. b. Detroit, the extraordinary value offered is recognized. This is particularly true, because the remarkable performance and reliability of the Essex chassis are at their highest points in the cars now being shipped. Demonstrations of the chassis will distinctly prove such qualities as pickup, power, smoothness, economy and the characteristic Essex easy driving, riding and steering."

A Song for Christmas

By James Whitcomb Riley

CHANT me a time of Christmas—
Sing me a jovial song—
And though it is filled with laughter,
Let it be pure and strong.

Sing of the hearts brimmed over
With the story of the day—
Of the echo of childish voices
That will not die away.

Of the blare of the tasseled bugle,
And the timeless clatter and beat
Of the drum that throbs to muster
Squadrons of scampering feet.

But, O, let your voice fall fainter,
Till, blent with a minor tone,
You temper your song with the beauty
Of the pity Christ hath shown,

And sing one verse for the voiceless;
And yet, ere the song be done,
A voice for the ears that hear not,
And a verse for the sightless one.

For though it be time for singing
A merry Christmas glee,
Let a low, sweet voice of pathos
Run through the melody.

Christmas, Mistletoe —the Kissing Custom

Since the Christian era, mistletoe was dedicated to Christmas time. With it went the custom of kissing under the white-berried plant, probably a survival of the saturnalia of pagan rites.

But the Christian elders decided that when the churches were decorated with mistletoe, there was too much kissing going on during the services and too many requests for the wedding service.

So they abolished mistletoe and hung up in its stead holly, to signify the dark monotony and many thorns of matrimony. But the mistletoe stayed in the homes at Christmas, and so did the kissing custom.

It is bad luck for a maiden to stand under the mistletoe and not be kissed. It means that she will not be married that year.

Naturally

"Have you been doing your holiday shopping early?"

"Well, not of late."

Christmas, a God-Man, Said John Wanamaker

"Christmas is a man born—not a sentiment," said John Wanamaker. Too often we think of the birth of the Christ-child as a beautiful story, and we are apt to forget that the event we celebrate at the Christmastide is a historical fact. So many fairy tales have been woven into the original fabric that the truth is in danger of being obscured. Christmas is not a beautiful legend about a plump old man with white whiskers and a pack of toys on his back. Christmas is a God-man born into the world to give light and life, peace and joy—a reality that tops all realities.

Wrapping the Gift

If we do not wrap up a little love with our Christmas gift what is the use?

BONDS AT HOME AFTER SURRENDER

NO STATEMENT TO MAKE HE SAYS WHEN NEWSPAPER MEN ASK QUESTIONS

Belton, Nov. 15.—At liberty under bond in the sum of $10,000.00, Albert W. Bonds, former sheriff of Bell county who stands charged by grand jury indictment with the murder of Chief of Police Wiley Fisher of Temple in this city on August 20 is back at home with his wife and children.

The former peace officer rushed to his home immediately following a conference with his lawyer, A. L. Curtis early Sunday afternoon after the bond had been set and approved by Judge Lewis H. Jones.

Appearance is Surprise

Bonds, accompanied by Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, Ranger Sargeant Taylor and a deputy sheriff of Travis county drove quietly into Belton at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Going directly to the district court room, they summoned Judge Jones from church by phone and before the fact was known to any one scarcely, the bond had been made and Bonds set at liberty.

The bondsmen are P. M. Keller, former mill man of this city, Manso McBryde, a ranchman of Maxdale and Sam G. Giles, prominent Taylor's valley farmer. The sureties are said to be worth over $-00,000.00.

Sheriff Not Advised

Members of the sheriff's department were not aware of the surrender of Bonds until after the bond had been made. Neither was his return to this county known to District Attorney Few Brewster until informed by a representative of the Telegram. Sheriff Bigham was at Sugarland where he had gone after a prisoner charged with the burglary of a Temple residence.

Everyone was surprised at Bonds' unexpected appearance and Judge Jones stated that his first intimation that Bonds intended to give up was when he was called to the court house.

Mr. Brewster stated that he has never agreed that the case was a bailable one, the question never having come before him, he said.

Is Greeted by Friends

Immediately when the word went out that the former sheriff had returned to this city his friends began to gather at his home. Hundreds of people visited him Suunday afternoon and Sunday night.

Bonds Makes Statement

Asked if he had anything to state in connection with his case, the former sheriff said:

"I have no statement to make with reference to the merits of my case. Neither will I discuss where I have been since I left Belton. I voluntarily surrendered to Captain Frank Hamer late Saturday night and spent the night in his home in Austin. Captain Hamer, I think, is one of the most capable peace officers in Texas and I surrendered as soon as I thought it would be safe to do so.

"I greatly appreciate the courtesies and many acts of kindness that have been shown my wife and children during my absence and I will always be grateful to my friends for what they have done. I will be glad to see my friends as the opportunity presents itself."

No Plans for Future

Asked what were his plans for the future, Bonds said that they would largely depend upon the advice of his attorneys. He also indicated that his plans would probably hinge upon the setting of his case for trial.

ed in grief. The sombre sun of late afternoon burnished with gold the mauve gray casket banked with flowers as under the gentle trees of the beautiful Oak Hill Cemetery there was said the last prayer and tribute for one who lived to rear monuments in the hearts of his fellows and to inspire his family with noble thoughts and deeds. The verdict of all who knew him is that his faults, though few, are written upon the sands, his virtues many, preserved forever upon the marble shafts of memory.

He is survived by his widow, four children, Virginia Vest, teacher at Honey Grove; John G. Vest, Jr., Richard Vest and Mary Orr Vest, all of Cameron; one sister in Richmond, Va., and his step mother who resides in New York.

The active pall bearers were: A. J. Triggs, W. O. Triggs, E. C. Cammer, F. C. Fahrendorf, J. W. Joynes, J. E. Flinn, D. H. Slaughter, S. H. Hopkins. The Honorary pall bearers were: J. M. Ralston, Wm. The Herald extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved family in their great loss.

THE MILLIONAIRE'S SECRET

To be a millionaire, a man must not only get rich; he must be able to stay rich. A certain well known millionaire, when asked how he stayed rich, said :"I invest my money in sound, established companies."

That man has learned a valuable secret. But a man's money, however much he has, is never worth so much to him as his mind, his intelligence.

Has it ever occurred to you that you should invest your intelligence just as carefully as you invest your money?

Why not invest your intelligence in a sound company by subscribing to the Youth's Companion? It is the oldest magazine for young people in the world—and nearly the oldest of all American magazines. It is also one of the most interesting. Practically every famous author of the past hundred years has written at one time or another for the Companion. Only this fall, for example, the Companion published a new story by Jack London. Do you like stories of adventure? Mystery? Romance? They are all in the Youth's Companion.

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1927, and
2. The remaining issues of 1926.

All for only $2.

3. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $2.50.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION
S. N. Dept., Boston, Mass.
Subscriptions Received at this Office

The regular mail rate of $9.00 a year has been reduced to $5.95, a saving of $3.05 and hundreds of new subscribers are being added to their list daily.

In September a Rotogravure Section was added to the Sunday paper and the price raised to 10c a copy. It is now possible to secure by mail, for only 75c more than the Sunday the paper daily and Sunday for a year paper alone would cost purchased each Sunday. There is also a reduction in the price of the daily only edition, the regular rate for this is $6.00, and the reduced rate is $4.45 for a years subscription.

Reductions have also been made for six month subscriptions, the daily and Sunday edition six months is only $3.45 and the daily only for the same period of time is $2.25.

These reduced rates will be in effect until January 1, 1927, and afford a wonderful opportunity for those wishing to secure a metropolitan newspaper to do so at a considerable saving.

FALL GARDEN EXHIBIT

The Ben Arnold Home Demonstration Club had a Fall garden exhibit at the Ben Arnold school house last Saturday afternoon. There was a large variety of vegetables on display from the fall gardens, and an abundance of fruits and vegetables in glass jars and tins, matured and canned since the club had the Spring garden exhibit. The ladies deserve praise for the splendid showing and for their untiring interest in the home demonstration work.

Club members own three pressure cookers, which account for some of the things canned that would have gone to waste without them.

This club was organized by Mrs. Ringgold, home demonstration agent and formerly stationed here, and to whom much of the success of the club is due.

Miss Montgomery, successor to Mrs. Ringgold, an enthusiastic worker, of lovable disposition, quickly won the respect and affection of local club members.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! How good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

CHICKEN HATCHERY IS UNDER CONSIDERATION

R. E. SHARPE AND W. D. BIGBEE MAY SOON HAVE MODERN PLANT HERE

A 15,000 capacity egg hatchery to do commercial hatching for the poultry industry is now under advisement by the commercial club.

R. E. Sharpe and W. D. Bigbee, poultry men, have placed before the club the possibilities of a commercial hatchery in Cameron and the club has voted its active endorsement.

The matter is now in the hands of the committee for action. The club members feel that by the next regular meeting of the club the matter will be thoroughly solved. There seems little doubt now that the hatchery will be established.

It was pointed out that some 30,000 or more eggs are sent away each year from Cameron to commercial hatcheries and these eggs will be taken care of here and other eggs to be shipped in from neighboring points.

Mr. Sharpe for some years has been doing hatching for his own poultry yards and Mr. Bigbee has a model chicken farm east of the city. He is specializing in white leghorn chickens and is receiving hundreds of eggs each day, finding a ready market in Cameron.

The club agrees that the hatchery will be in capable hands and every encouragement is looked for.

CHEVROLET COMPANY IN BIG SALES CONTEST

Turkey or beans, which?

Win and you feast on turkey, lose and you diet on beans.

This is the novel inspiration in the nation wide sales contest being conducted this month within the great sales organization of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Winners will be those who deliver the largest percentage of their November quota. In thousands of cities throughout the country, those who have won the right to dine on turkey will sit directly opposite their less fortunate bean-eating brethren.

The contest involves two assistant sales managers, C. E. Dawson and H. J. Klingler, 6 regional sales managers, 34 zone sales managers, 400 Chevrolet representatives, 8,000 direct and associate dealers and 14,000 salesmen.

Mr. Dawson is directing the Flint, Atlantic Coast and South Eastern regions against the Great Lakes, Middle West and Pacific Coast Regions, led by Mr. Klingler.

In addition to the regional contest, every Chevrolet zone within the regions is matched against another zone and every dealer organization within the zone is matched against another dealer.

The turkey-bean banquets of the dealer organizations will be held early in December, while the assistant sales managers, together with the regional and zone sales managers will eat either turkey or beans at the regional and zone managers' convention in Detroit about February 1.

ALBERT BONDS GIVES UP TO STATE RANGERS

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF WILEY FISHER, FORMER SHERIFF MAKES BOND

Belton, Nov. 14.—Albert W. Bonds former Bell county sheriff under indictment charging murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Chief of Police Wiley Fisher of Temple on the street here August 20, surrendered in open court here this morning and was discharged under $10,000 recognizance bond.

His surrender was a very unexpected and dramatic turn in the Bonds case.

He came into Belton in an automobile from the direction of the south highway from toward Austin, in company with Captain Frank Hamer of the state rangers and two other rangers. The rangers were heavily armed.

The rangers and Mr. Bonds telephoned to church and called district judge Lewis H. Jones to the court house.

Bonds had indicated that he wanted bond and was ready to make it.

He said nothing, but was crying. He looked very old and was wearing his old clothes.

The recognizance bond was signed by three men as sureties, S. G. Giles, Manse McBride and P. M. Keller.

No words were passed and no information was available as to where Bonds had been or where he went from here. He and the three rangers left by the back door of the court house and drove off in their automobile.

It is presumed that they came here from Austin.

In a case of this kind, it is left to the district judge to determine whether the case is a bailable case and how much the bond shall be.

Everyone was surprised by Bond's unexpected appearance and Judge Jones said that the first indication that he had that Bonds intended to give up was when he was called to the court house. Sheriff Bigham was out of town at the time and District Attorney Brewster was in Temple, not having been advised that Bonds intended to surrender. The question of whether it is a bailable case had not come up before and Brewster had never agreed that it was a bailable case, Mr. Brewster said in Temple when informed of Bond's surrender.

Belton, Nov. 14.—Albert W. Bonds will be joined by his family in some other county and will make his home there until the case in Bell county is called for trial, one of the rangers in the party stated here this morning while bond was being fixed in the district court room.

The party of rangers accompanying Bonds brought him into the justice while bond was being fixed in the discourt room here Sunday morning about 11:30 o'clock. It was apparent that Mr. Bonds had surrendered to the state rangers at Austin and was brought by them to Belton to appear before the district court to apply for bond.

It all happened very quickly and very quietly, the district judge having no intimation that the surrender was likely until he was called to the court house from church.

Mr. Bonds had indicated, immediately after the shooting here, in a letter to his family, that he would surrender but not to Bell county officers, fearing that he was in danger to appear in Bell county. He said that he would surrender as soon as he felt that he could do so safely.

The adjutant general's office, ranger headquarters in Austin, could not be reached by the Telegram Sunday morning but it is generally believed that Mr. Bonds surrendered in Austin to the rangers so that he would be in their custody and under their protection.

Sheriff Bigham was out of the city today, having gone to Sugarland to get a prisoner wanted on an indictment charging auto theft in Temple.

Review of Bonds Case

A. W. Bonds was sheriff in Bell county for four years, defeating Hugh Smith for the office in 1920 and winning over John R. Bigham in 1922. In 1924 in a second heated campaign he was defeated by Bigham but ran against Bigham again in 1926, being defeated by about 700 votes.

Bonds came from Rogers as did Chief of Police Wiley Fisher of Temple. They were friends, it was generally believed, until the later part differences arose between the late of Bond's second term as sheriff when head of the Temple police and the former sheriff.

Fisher was very active in the campaign of Bigham for sheriff this year and in the course of the campaign a letter assailing Bonds signed by Fisher is alleged to have been printed and several hundred copies circulated.

Several days before the shooting in Belton, Bonds filed a complaint of criminal libel against the Temple chief in the county court based on the letter alleged to have been written by Fisher.

Went to Funeral

On Aug. 17, Mrs. George Burtchell of Temple was killed in an automobile accident in Tennessee Valley near the Cox Hallow bridge. The woman left three small children and these were taken into the Fisher home in Temple temporarily.

The body of the woman was taken to the Eads Undertaking company and prepared for burial, the funeral service being set for 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, Aug. 20, in Belton at the undertaking company parlors, to be conducted by Capt. George W. Thomas of the Salvation Army.

Chief Fisher took his wife, the three children and one or two Temple women to Belton in an automobile, leaving here about 9:30 o'clock Friday morning for the funeral in Belton. He was at police headquarters until 9:30 o'clock discussing cases before the police court and handling other matters.

As nearly as could be determined about 10:10 o'clock he was standing by his automobile in front of the Eads Undertaking company on Central avenue in Belton, helping his wife into the car. The three children were on the back seat of the car and Fisher was standing with one foot on the running board.

Two Shots Fired

Witnesses said that Bonds drove by in a Ford touring car, passing next to the Fisher car, traveling west on the avenue. He had an automatic shot gun in his hands. Two shots were fired and Fisher fell. One charge of the buckshot struck him in the back of the shoulder and the other charge struck his leg. He died almost instantly.

Those present at the scene of the shooting said that Fisher pushed his wife aside and cried, "Look out.'

Whether he saw what was about to happen and did this to save his wife, or whether he never saw what was happening and said this after he had been struck by the shot as a natural physical reaction to danger or shock has been the subject of much conjecture.

Stops for Gasoline

Bonds preceded up the avenue, turned north on main street and stopped at the Guffy Filling station and bought four gallons of gasoline. Attendants at the service station said that he had a shot gun in the car and stood examining a rifle while the gasoline was being put into the tank.

A man at a grocery store in the park on the west banks of the Nolan creek said that Bonds passed by, going west on the Killeen road at 10:13 o'clock—he wrote the time down on the wall thinking something might have happened.

Apparently Bonds turned south on the west side of Belton in the outer edge of town, following the road by the Belton golf links and south on the Keyes Valley road.

It was not thought that he would give up to Bell county officers because of the feeling against Sheriff Bigham aroused in their three political campaigns, but it was believed that he would give up to the sheriff in some neighboring county.

Sheriff Bigham and Deputy Sheriff Clarence Johnson were in Bartlett Friday morning to take charge of a man who was to be removed to the insane asylum. They arrived in Belton about 20 minutes after the tragedy and immediately took up the search for Bonds. The sheriffs in other counties were telephoned and a posse was organized, searching the various highways.

Friday night about 11 o'clock Bonds' automobile was found about a mile and a half north of Jarrell on a side road leading from the mountain country and the cedar breaks. Three of the tires were flat and were badly beaten by the rocks. It was filled with fragments of cedar boughs and told the story of a hard drive over the long rough mountain roads.

HOYTE DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Hoyte Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, October 26 at Hoyte School House. As this was the first meeting since the appointment of the new demonstrator, Miss Velma Montgomery, of Palestine, there was no regular program.

After a "get acquainted" hour Miss Montgomery gave an interesting outline of the purpose and aim of the club work and all members pledged themselves to try to live up to the motto "Make the best better."

A discussion of vitamines in relation to a child's health and mental ability was given in connection with a talk on school lunches.

After deciding on each second and fourth Thursday for meeting day, the club adjourned.

A regular meeting of the Hoyte Demonstration Club was held Armistice Day at the Hoyte School house. Although Miss Montgomery was given a holiday, she sacrificed it in order to meet with the club.

This was the first meeting of the club and officers were elected. The following were chosen:

President, Mrs. H. B. Pressley; Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Hanel; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Winkler, re-elected. Reporter, Willie Day; Parliamentarian, Helen Tabler.

The renovation of old clothing was discussed round table fashion, accompanied by an instructive poster lecture by Miss Montgomery. She used reproductions of actual work done by members of other clubs.

The use and making of arrow head tacks was studied next, after which each member was required to make one or more of these little ornaments.

The next meeting of the club is to be held Thanksgiving Day. Ass Miss Montgomery will be out of town Mrs. Clyde Hensley and Willie Day will have charge of the program.

The meeting adjourned after the demonstrator had urged each member to attend the poultry show in Cameron November 19 and 20.

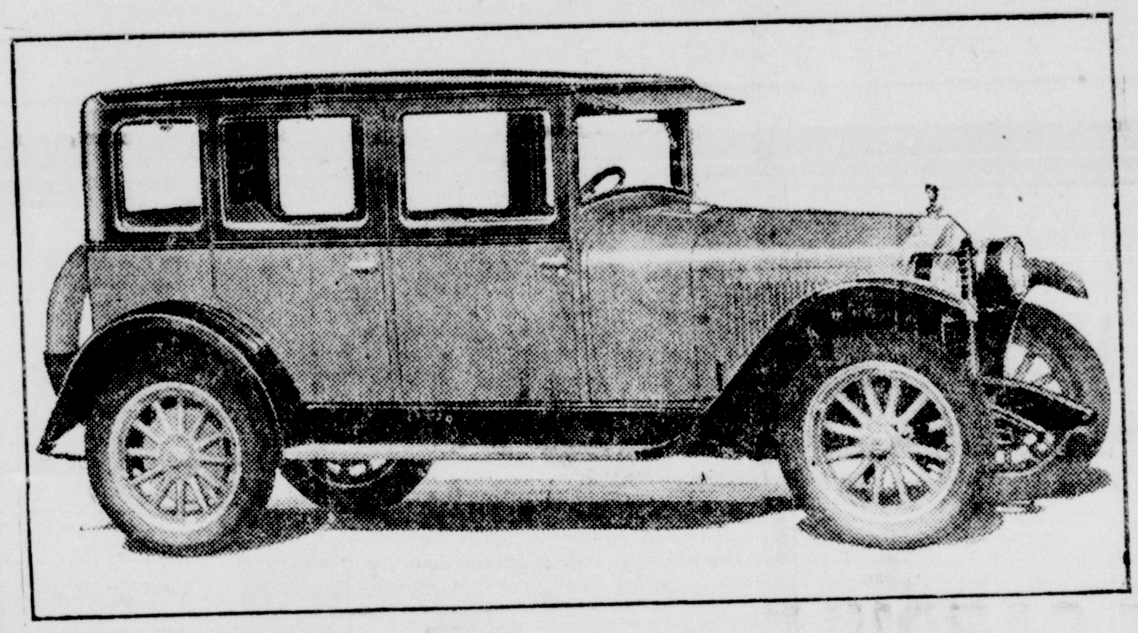
Essex Introduces New 4-Door 6 Cylinder Sedan



After building 330,000 coaches in three years, Essex now adds this new 4-door sedan to its line of cars. The cars are now on display locally.

Essex has created an automobile with the introduction of a six cylinder 4-door sedan with a list price which brings it into the less-than-$800 class. This is an unusual example of how values in closed car values have developed in recent years.

Three years ago, the first enclosed car offered at less than $1,000 on a 6-cylinder chassis entered the field. This was the first Essex six coach. Then in successive stages these cars were offered at less than $900, then less than $800, and finally, the Essex coach was listed recently at $795. In this remarkable career Essex has built a third of a million coaches in three years. Now it offers additionally the 4 door sedan.

Steel-built in the new $10,000,000 Hudson Essex body plant, this 4-door sedan is said by dealers here to embody an exceptionally high standard of detail and finish. The exterior is of duo-tone lacquer finish, and the interior is trimmed with mohair upholstery. There are dome lights, curtained windows and similiar refinements.

Making Ready for a Gay Christmas

Breakable Articles Should Be Removed to Places of Safety.

By MARGARET BRUCE

EVERY home-woman knows what an inrush of extra things there is in the house at Christmas time. Every room is already as full as it can hold, yet we must make place for outgoing and incoming gifts, the boxes, the rolls of tinsel and ribbon, the pots of growing flowers that are sent by friends, the boxes of candy, the bowls of fruits and nuts, and all the pretty paraphernalia of the holidays.

All these extra articles must come to rest on the tables, the mantels, the tops of desks or bookshelves, and other surfaces, generally to the detriment if not the actual destruction of the vases, glass candelabra, bowls of berries, framed photographs and other ornaments that stay here the year round. There isn't room for everything, and in the Christmas haste something is sure to be pushed aside and broken.

The wise housewife, therefore, clears her decks a week or so beforehand. She carefully tucks away upon a closet shelf the breakable treasures of china, glass, pottery and plaster. On the mantel she leaves only some brass or silver candlesticks, and perhaps a copper bowl for Christmas greens. The tables are cleared of all small objects and hold only a few books (in wooden or metal book-ends), heavy reading lamps that cannot be tipped over and some Christmas magazines, perhaps.

Space on top of bookshelves, ordinarily occupied by swinging photograph frames, delicate blown glass figures, and the like, are swept clean and filled with branches of pine, sprays of bittersweet or clumps of crimson berries, with some holly added the day before Christmas. As holly dries out more quickly than evergreens, and the yellowed leaves drop within a few days, it is best not to bring the holly into the warm house any earlier than necessary.

The dining-room furnishings should be given the same protective treatment. Delicate tea sets, the fragile after-dinner coffee service, even breakable fruit bowls and the like, should be hidden away until after the exciting morning when gifts are opened at the breakfast table, perhaps, and the buffet, sideboard, serving table and mantel are hastily crowded with half-wrapped gifts. The house will look furnished enough, never fear; and you will have the comfortable feeling that none of your breakable treasures is in danger.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representative. Ask your neighbor!

CLUB HOPES TO BUILD UP GRAPE INDUSTRY

The Commercial Club in session Monday night assured Mr. Pressley, farmer residing in the sand country beyond Little River that the club is interested in the grape industry.

F. S. Lesovsky and C. W. Lawrence were named some weeks ago on a committee to arrange for the grape enterprise. Neither were present for the meeting Monday night but the club has the assurance that the matter is well in hand and will be taken care of as soon as possible.

Mr. Pressley offers a farm for the demonstration grape vineyard or will co-operate in any way possible with the committee.

Monta Thomas, enthusiastic Aggie fan, says the Farmers are going to beat Texas. Monta always says the Farmers will beat Texas. He is strong for the Aggies and will be there to to see the game. He has followed the ill fated Aggie team through the year in which it promised great things but lost its major games. It will be a big colorful crowd. Mr. Thomas always sees the Thanksgiving game.

TURKEY SEASON OPENS WITH BIG RUSH HERE

FARMERS BRINGING IN FOWLS FOR MARKET AND GOOD PRICE QUOTED

The Turkey Trot is on!

Hundreds of fine birds raised on the farms of Milam county and adjoining counties are now reaching the local market and the price is around 25c per pound.

Difficulty last week in getting pickers at the dressing plant led to some doubts about handling the crop but this matter has been solved. Mr. Shipp of the Peter Company finds he has ample labor to take care of all turkeys brought to Cameron.

The big plant is running day and night, killing and dressing turkeys for shipment.

Mr. Shipp stated Monday night before the Commercial Club that one of the largest droves of turkeys marketed here in recent years was driven down from Bell county this week.

The Commercial Club prize offer of $160 in gold is making an attractive inducement for farmers to come to Cameron with their turkeys.

The prizes are to be awarded about December 31. J. D. Dobbins and W. M. Cobb were added to the committee on Monday night to award the prizes.

It was pointed out that in order to participate in these awards a farmer must necessarily raise the turkeys he markets and must also make an affidavit to same. Pooling turkeys is not permitted under the rules of the contest. Paul Webb, secretary of the club is the other member of the committee.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Constipation! How to Keep Bowels Regular

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Christmas Cards Bring Good Cheer

By GERTRUDE WALTON

OF WHAT value to anyone is a name on a postal card? This card craze at Christmas does little more than fill our waste baskets. There is seldom a greeting saved to refer to after a day or so. This is my first cardless Christmas. If I can send no more than a card to my friends I shall send nothing," Laura Lee declared during an afternoon's shopping trip with her neighbor, Mrs. Rand.

"The card may go into the waste basket but the kindly thoughts that the card conveys to the one who receives it and the joy of the sender of the card could not be contained in the largest basket in the world. There are some things that we may not 'scrap,' nor can we afford to cast some things out of our lives. If my disagreeable and harmful manners and habits could be thrown into a scrap heap as easily as a card may be cast there, if the worthy, lovely impulses of the sender could be filed away in my brain-box for reference whenever a previous desire to be kind and unselfish is forgotten and the ugly, selfish part of myself begins to assert its ownership, I would be glad," Mrs. Rand answered kindly.

Two days before Christmas Edith Rand hurried across the street to the Lee home on an errand. The mail man had just left the door as Laura Lee met Edith with a handful of letters and cards.

"Please wait until I look over this card from Jane, the dear. She hasn't written me for ages. Let me see who this one is from. Why from Lena in Cuba! And one from Jack in Canada, and dear old pal Ethel in Mexico. When have I ever heard from Cora Haines? I had lost her whereabouts. Lena is teaching in a mission school. Cousin Jack is in the government's employ and as busy as a bumble bee. We used to get our "trig" together in college. He would help me while I wrote his English outlines. Dear Ethel says she has established a school for girls. And here is dear Margaret Lane with her third baby. She is writing this card while watching the baby who is ill. To think they found time to write to me. O, Edith, never have I realized before how happy a name on a card could make one feel. What if no one ever thought to write me? What a discovery to find that our thoughts, our love may be so big while sending a card, for no package is large enough anyway to hold genuine good will and love. The joy these messages have brought me could never be thrown into a waste basket. Please forgive my words the other afternoon. Can you hurry to town with me to buy all the cards they have? It will take a great number to distribute some of the good will and love that is bubbling over in my heart. It is true this joy, peace and love that Christmas means—the things the Babe in the Manger brought—can never be cast into a waste basket.

ANNOUNCEMENT TEA

A social event of outstanding beauty and interest was the seated tea given at the home of Mrs. T. S. Henderson last Saturday afternoon, complimenting her daughter, Miss Harriet Henderson.

The rooms were a scene of beauty. Chrysanthemums of various colors in pedestal baskets, and vases were placed at vantage points, making a delightful autumn scene.

Close friends of the honoree were invited to share the hospitality extended at his home and a delightful time was had by all. While Miss Helen Flinn played "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Bradbury on the violin, Miss Agnes Henderson appeared on the stairway attired in her mother's wedding dress which was tastefully designed in blue. She carried a beautiful old fashioned bouquet of chrysanthemums and sweet alyssum; to each blossom was tied a scroll which was presented to the guests. Upon opening, the following was revealed: Minnie Agnes Burns and Thomas Stalworth Henderson, Dcember 10, 1884. Eleanor Henderson and Peter Boyd Wells, December 10, 1914. Harriet Henderson and Hamilton Moore Bonnet, December 10, 1926. Greetings and good wishes were extended to the fair bride-to-be.

This announcement will be of much interest to scores of friends, both in Cameron and throughout the state.

The bride-elect is an accomplished young lady, was educated at State University of Texas, and by her endearing charms has drawn around her legions of friends.
